DU PONT SAYS "BEST PEOPLE" FIGHT DRY LAW

Majority in Open Revolt Against Prohibition, Industrial Leader Asserts.

HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Appears as Rebuttal Witness for Wets in Session of House Inquiry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23—"Most of the upright and respected citizens are in open revolt against the supposed purpose of the eighteenth amendment," Pierre S. duPont, Wilmington, Delaware, industrialist, said today in prohibition hearings before the house judiciary committee.

"Many who pretend to uphold the law and exalt its benefit," he added, "do not hesitate to drink when liquor is furnished them. It seems a general belief that men in high government positions, in the legislatures, in congress and elsewhere continue to use intoxicating liquor just as do those in private life. It would cause no surprise to find drinking even among those administering the law and judging the law breakers."

Wet Association Official

Mr. du Pont is chairman of the executive committee of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and appeared as a rebuttal witness on measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

He said that since the eighteenth amendment was enacted a generation comprising one-third of the voting population had reached a majority and was entitled to a vote on the question of prohibition. This, with the rapidity with which the amendment was adopted during the World war, he said, warranted "reporting out the bill now before this committee so that the will of the people may be determined after 10 years' experience with a law that can boast little of their support or approval either before or after its passage."

Speaking on the workingman's side of prohibition, the industrialist said, "Today's liquor bill reached $1,600,000,000," but said that this was only two and one-half per cent of the

LINDY WILL LAUNCH FAST MAIL SERVICE

Leaves For Florida Thursday To Inaugurate International Line.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 23—Inauguration of the world's fastest international air mail service is the next task to which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will bend his flying skill.

He will fly to Miami, Fla., tomorrow in the plane in which he set a transcontinental speed record last Sunday. There he will take over the controls of a Pan-American Airways mail plane for a flight to Havana, Cuba, and thence across the Caribbean Sea 1,200 miles to Cristobal, Canal Zone.

Expectations were that Mrs. Lindbergh would not accompany him, as has been her custom on all important flights since their marriage.

The flight from Havana to Cristobal will mark the first stage of a new fast mail service between North and South America which will provide a schedule of one week between New York and Montevideo and Buenos Aires.

Plans announced by J. T. Trippe, president of the Pan-American Airways, call for Colonel Lindbergh's mail flight to Havana Saturday with mail which will bear a special cachet commemorating the occasion and will include letters of congratulation from governmental and diplomatic officials in Washington.

He will take off at 6 a. m. Sunday accompanied by a co-pilot and a radio operator on the flight to Cristobal.

VICTIMS OF BLAZE READY FOR BURIAL

318 Former Prisoners Rest in Improvised Morgue; Suicide Rumors False.

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Twelve long rows of caskets—their sombre grey, blue and pale pink colors reflecting dimly in the early daylight—rested on tables today in the temporary morgue, bearing the mortal remains of 318 convicts whose lives were snuffed out in the Ohio penitentiary fire Monday night.

Soldiers stood at attention at the end of the long rows. Each casket, containing a broken and burned form of what was a man, stood open, and at the foot of each rested a floral piece—a remembrance of the State of Ohio to the men who, locked in their cells and trapped like rats, went to their doom.

Rumors Refuted

Ugly rumors that some of the dead had committed suicide or were shot to death by guards during the turmoil within the grim grey walls were refuted in no uniform tone today by Capt. C. B. Weir, regular army reserve officer, who is a director at the morgue. He said not one of the bodies showed evidence of a shot or of suicide.

Captain Weir told of the work at the morgue—a Herculean task for the undertakers. First he said, his men made certain that all were dead. At 2 a. m. Tuesday the work of embalming started. Exactly 24 hours later all bodies had been embalmed, dressed and placed in the caskets.

Later today the saddened relatives and friends of the victims were to be permitted to visit with their dead. Claimants of bodies were to be recognized in this order—widows, then parents, brothers or sisters, sons and daughters, distant relatives, and lastly close friends.

Recheck Made

A recheck of the dead was being made to make identifications certain. All corpses were being finger-printed and these were to be compared with prison records.

Saddened by the tragedy, Governor Myers Y. Cooper visited the morgue during the morning.

Before noon relatives and friends of the dead were admitted to the building. Many of the women were crying, their grief being shared by Mrs. Preston Thomas, wife of the warden, who looked upon the forms of many of the men she knew and to whom she had administered in prison.

The Red Cross established a first aid station outside the morgue. Rough boxes, in which caskets were to be placed, were found to be broken. Many of these were sent back to manufacturers, who were ordered to supply new ones.

Besides preparing the bodies for burial, the state furnished the robes and caskets and provided transportation to their homes. Relatives unable to travel to Columbus may telegraph instructions to Warden Thomas at the penitentiary.

Freed in death from the prison walls, the convicts went through a

PLAN BURIALS FOR MARION VICTIMS

Four of Six From Here To Die in Fire Are To Be Returned For Funerals.

Four of the six men listed from Marion in the Ohio state penitentiary death list, will be given funerals here Thursday and Friday. No relatives have made arrangements or inquired for the other two men who were burned to death in the holocaust.

Gerano Salinas, 25, 776 Fairfield st., will be buried in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery Friday morning, according to the last report. His widow, Mrs. Ida Salinas was making funeral plans this morning.

To Be Brought Here Today

Salinas' body will be brought to the M. H. Gunder funeral home, West Center st., this afternoon, to await funeral services at 9 o'clock Friday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church.

Services for Ralph R. Gibson, on penitentiary records as Paul Gibson, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the C. E. Curtis Co. mortuary, East Center st. Gibson was 33 years old, and was born in Marion, April 9, 1897, to Nora and Henry Gibson, who preceded him in death.

One brother, Marley Gibson and two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Kimberling and Mrs. Lotta Miller, all of Marion, are living. The Rev. W. Martel George, pastor of Wesley M. E. church will preach the funeral sermon. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

Until the bodies of Fred Ames and Edward Upchurch are brought to Marion arrangements for their funerals will not be made. The body of Upchurch will be brought from the Ohio State fairgrounds coliseum to Marion some time this afternoon to the Hess, Merkert & Avery [illegible]. Upchurch was the Marion man who might have saved his own life if he had gone to the Mansfield reformatory instead of choosing the penitentiary when he was sentenced March 27.

To Send for Body

As soon as the Schaffner Queen Co. receives word from penitentiary officials, a car will be sent to Columbus for the body of Fred Ames, to bring it back to Marion.

No move has been made by any relatives or friends here to claim the body of Frank Z. Sams, about whom there is little known here, except that he was serving a one-year sentence for burglarizing an uninhabited dwelling.

It is probable that services for Harry E. Duncan, identified with the C. B. & M. robbery several years ago, will be arranged for by his relatives in Zanesville or Columbus, the [illegible] deceased he gave as his homes.

Scene of Pathos Enacted by Relatives of Dead

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—They came to claim their dead today—the widows, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters, of the 318 convicts who lost their lives in the Ohio penitentiary fire.

Timidly and tearfully they formed in a mass against the bars of the office gate of the big grey prison, where smoke snuffed out the lives of their loved ones. Miss Thomas [illegible], sorted cards and passed out information while Rome aided her. They both were acting for Warden Preston E. Thomas, who had issued the orders for the claiming of the dead.

Lines of Sorrow

Faces pressed against the bars. Tired, weary faces. Faces with lines of tragedy drawn across them by the indelible ink of the catastrophe. FOREST LYON DROPS DEAD ON RUNNING TRACK

Marion County Youth Dies Suddenly While Training for Team.

HEART FAILURE IS CAUSE

Was Senior at Miami University; Funeral Service Friday.

Forest Lyon, 22, of northwest of Caledonia, is dead today, having succumbed to a sudden heart attack a few minutes after completing a trial run while training with the track team of Miami university at Oxford, O.

Lyon died yesterday afternoon shortly after completing three laps over a quarter-mile track. He had won letters as a member of the Miami university varsity track and cross country team. Lyon specialized in the two-mile run.

Lyon was to have been graduated from the university in June. He was one of the outstanding students of the Martel High school. In addition to his abilities as an athlete, he had gained considerable fame in college and high school as an orator.

The Marion county youth was recently found in good physical condition at an examination held by the school, press reports from Oxford said today.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lyon of near Caledonia. He was born in Marion county Feb. 24, 1908.

Besides the parents he is survived by five brothers and sisters, Wallace, Robert, Bernard, Richard and Mildred, all at home. He was the oldest of six children born to Mr. and Mrs. Lyon.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Caledonia M. E. church. Burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery.

All Prisoners Accounted for

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—All prisoners who were in penitentiary when Monday night's tragic fire occurred have been accounted for. Three hundred and eighteen are dead. One, Mike Dorr, 32, Wood county, escaped. Two others reported missing have been found. Charles Knapp, Summit county, found in a cell block, was sent to the Lima hospital today. J. B. Rowe, Clinton county, was found in the chapel. All others were checked in their cells and dormitories.

Of the 318 dead in the morgue, 267 have been tentatively identified, and 51 remain unidentified. Comparison of finger prints with prison records will be necessary before definite identification of all victims will be established.

TRANSFER 140 MEN TO OTHER PRISONS

20 Convicts Go to State Hospital for Insane: 100 to London Prison Farm.

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—One hundred and forty convicts in the Ohio penitentiary, where 318 prisoners lost their lives in a fire Monday night, today were ordered sent to other state institutions, to relieve over-crowded conditions in the prison here.

One hundred went to the London prison farm, 20 to the Lima state hospital for the insane and 20 to the [illegible]

[illegible] Warden J. C. W[illegible] and ordered [illegible] to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

SNOW STORM WHIPS GALION

Fall of Several Inches Reported from Crawford County City: Fear for Fruit.

DOWN TO ZERO IN EAST

Records of 50 Years' Standing Are Broken by Weather Conditions in East.

A snow storm which visited Marion briefly this morning blew into Galion and surrounding territory and left a blanket of snow reported to be several inches deep.

The Crawford county city was also visited by the heavy frost which is feared to have caused heavy damage to early fruit crops.

According to Associated Press dispatches, cold weather, accompanied by snow, is general over the central and eastern sections of the United States. Records of 50 years or more were broken in the north Atlantic states when a six-inch snow fell in some places. At Tupper lake, in the Adirondacks, the temperature fell to zero.

New Record for Cold

Washington residents were startled to see scattering snow flakes about 6 o'clock as were early risers in New York where the thermometer stood at 30, an all-time record for the date. Pittsburgh reported a 50-year weather record broken, with a temperature of 27 and milk [illegible] on [illegible] in and around Springfield, Mass., when the mercury dropped to 20.

At Cleveland the American league baseball game was postponed because of snow and cold weather.

Weather bureau forecasters said the unusually cold weather would continue until the Canadian high pressure area moved out to the sea which probably would require another 24 to 48 hours.

Marion Hit by Frost

Marion appeared to be faring slightly better than other sections but the frost last night is feared to have taken a heavy toll of the local fruit crop.

An unseasonable cold snap last night sent temperatures skidding down to 26 degrees last night, to be followed at noon today by sharp snow flurries, which disappeared as suddenly as they came.

A second visit of damaging frosts is already forecast tonight. Severity of freezing temperatures will range from light to heavy throughout the state. Partly cloudy conditions Thursday are expected to replace fair weather today.

Unestimated damage was done Marion county fruit crops last night. At the Lawrence Fruit Farms, east of the city, the sharp temperatures caught early apple trees in full bloom and "patched" cherry trees, also in bloomer.

Total damage to fruit crops done [illegible] state last night is expected to [illegible] thousands of dollars, although the cold snap was most [illegible] half of the state.

A [illegible] and other [illegible] were damaged but apples were not [illegible] affected. In the [illegible] temperature of 24 degrees [illegible] peaches and plums [illegible] farther west in the state.

[illegible] local [illegible] prophesying [illegible] winter is gone for good, [illegible] temperature was a surprise to Marionites. The low mark of 26 was recorded after a sharp decline of [illegible] degrees yesterday afternoon.

A year ago, local temperatures ranged between a high of 65 and a low of 55.

COMPLETE DETAILS SOUGHT AS PRISON CHIEF IS QUIZZED

Governor's Board of Inquiry Puts Thomas on Stand To Ascertain Facts Regarding Every Possible Angle of Penitentiary Disaster.

DEATH TODAY INCREASES TOLL TO 318

Investigation Is Resumed as Relatives of Dead Men Assemble in Tragic Group To Arrange for Burial of Victims.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—(AP)—Warden Preston E. Thomas of Ohio penitentiary was summoned to appear again this afternoon before the board investigating the tragic fire that took the lives of 318 prisoners in four cell blocks Monday night.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, heading the inquiry, said the warden would be asked to answer these questions:

What arrangements were made to take care of any emergency such as that which attended the holocaust?

What specific arrangements were made to handle fire?

What equipment was available to fight fire?

What information he has learned as to the cause of the blaze that sent dense clouds of smoke rolling through six ranges while the victims were locked in their cells?

The warden testified before the board yesterday but the inquiry has revealed new angles which require explanation from him.

The committee made a list of witnesses they would call to determine whether any shots were fired during the fire. The step was taken after the reported finding of two exploded shot gun shells on the floor of the gutted G and H cell block.

A. E. Nice, Columbus fire chief, told the investigating board that he believed none of the 318 prisoners who died would have been lost had they been released from their cells as soon as the fire was discovered.

"I believe every man could have been saved," Nice said.

The fact that the first alarm came from a box outside the prison showed that there was delay on the part of those inside the penitentiary in sounding an alarm, he declared.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, heading the inquiry, asked the chief which of the prison officials was in charge on the inside.

"I don't know," he answered. "I don't think anybody had charge. In fact I don't believe anyone could have controlled the prisoners.

"It was a mad mob. But they were doing the work and doing it right."

Chief Nice said the convicts interfered with the firemen while they were handling the hose and eventually overpowered them. It was not done with malicious intent, however, for the convicts were doing their best to help, he said.

The death list was increased to 318 today, when one of the hundreds of injured in the prison hospital succumbed this morning. Four others are expected to die momentarily.

Examine Cells

The investigating committee sought to determine the cause of the fire to fix the nature of the cell construction in their minds before they began to question more witnesses at the second-day session of the committee.

E. L. Jenkins, superintendent of construction at the penitentiary told the committee it was reported to him Monday afternoon that electric lights used to illuminate the I and K cell block while under construction had been flickering. The trouble was eliminated at 3 p. m., he said, but it was definitely established that there had been difficulty with the wiring.

The committee also learned that woodwork used in the construction was soaked with paraffin oil to keep concrete from sticking to the molding forms.

The rafters of the G and H cell block were of wood and covered with a wooden sheeting.

Planned New Roof

The outside roof was of slate, as was the roof over the old building in which the new I and K cell blocks were being constructed. Jenkins said it was planned to replace the old roof with a concrete roof after the walls of the block were constructed. The old walls of the building would not support a concrete roof, he said.

The committee established that all prisoners in the sixth tier of the G and H block died of suffocation but that fire as well as smoke had caused the other deaths. Some prisoners were rescued from the fourth and fifth tiers. The north end of the block was charred by fire but the south end had not been seared.

Pledge Thorough Probe

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman today issued the following statement as the probe was resumed:

"It is my duty and purpose as attorney general to aid the administrative officers of the state, the governor and director of public welfare, in gete

Short Circuit Not Cause, Official Says

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Statements of convicts that Monday night's tragic fire in Ohio state penitentiary, when 318 men met death, was caused by a short circuit of electric wires, were refuted today by State Fire Marshal Ray R. Gill. He told State Director Hal Griswold, who is conducting an investigation of the disaster, that he was satisfied the cause was not short circuited wires. He said he found all fuses in the ill-fated cell blocks "O. K."

Death Menaces Four As Pneumonia Develops

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Death was fast approaching today for four Ohio state penitentiary prisoners who were injured during the disastrous fire Monday night. All had contracted pneumonia.

They are: Fred Sprinkle, Clark county, 3 to 15 years, burglary; John Edwards, alias McKibben, Hamilton county, life, first degree murder; Alvin Barteako, Clark county, 10 to 25 years, robbery, and James Andrews, Ross county, 10 to 20 years, shooting to kill.

One hundred and thirty-three other victims of the fire were in the hospital.

Reformatory Asks More Fire-Fighting Facilities

MANSFIELD, O., April 23—Asserting there is need for better fire-fighting facilities at the state reformatory here, city officials today were seeking improved conditions at the institution, following the recent holocaust at the state penitentiary in Columbus.

Prisoners Quiet Down and Fear of Uprising Vanishes

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23 — A spirit of unrest among the thousands of convicts early today in Ohio State penitentiary, scene of the tragic fire Monday night, disappeared at dawn and the fears of guards that there would be trouble was dissipated.

The fact that 600 negro convicts housed in wooden barracks in the yards were not locked in, and that several thousand men in the idle house cell blocks were restless and [illegible] defiant, caused guards [illegible] for liberty between [illegible] a. m. and 4 a. m. today. The negro convicts were not locked in because prison officials feared fire in the wooden buildings. The men in the idle house, which is known as the "white city," were locked in behind steel cages, but were not in their cells.

Calls Conference

At 4 a. m., when cell block guards reported the unrest and the defiant attitude of some of the men, acting Capt. H. E. Lockhardt, in charge in place of Capt. John Hall, who was off duty, called national guard officers into conference. He reported that he expected one sort of trouble before dawn, and asked that guardsmen out-

WESTINGHOUSE

THE REFRIGERATOR THAT COMBINES ALL 3 OF THESE ESSENTIAL REFINEMENTS..

Made possible by the Compact Efficient Freezing Mechanism developed by Westinghouse Engineers

Have you seen the New Westinghouse Refrigerator? If not, you really ought to take the time to look at it. It is worth—if you are the least bit interested in modern kitchen equipment—an hour of your time.

The low, flat Buffet-Top is so necessary when you are taking dishes out or putting them away. Without it, you must either search about for a place to lay them down or else handle them one at a time. And the Broom-High Legs to make underneath sweeping easy! And the Temperature-Selector to give you absolutely flexible control of freezing speed. You couldn't do without any of these refinements . . . and you can't find them all in any other machine

For Westinghouse has a freezing mechanism which permits the building of a refrigerator that has these requisite features. This mechanism [illegible] perfected after 12 years of patient research and experimentation [illegible] is a complete innovation. It is decidedly fast freezing and is definitely more efficient and economical.

DU PONT SAYS "BEST PEOPLE" FIGHT DRY LAW

Majority in Open Revolt Against Prohibition, Industrial Leader Asserts

HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Appears as Rebuttal Witness for Wets in Session of House Inquiry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Most of the upright and respected citizens are in open revolt against the supposed [illegible] of the eighteenth amendment, Pierre S. duPont, Wilmington, Delaware, industrialist, said [illegible] prohibition hearings before the House judiciary committee.

Many who pretend to uphold the law and exact its benefits, he added, do not hesitate to drink when liquor is furnished them. It seems a general belief that men in high government positions, in the legislatures, in congress and elsewhere continue to use intoxicating liquor just as do those in private life. It would cause no surprise to find drinking even among those administering the law and judging the law breakers.

Wet Association Official

Mr. du Pont is chairman of the executive committee of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and appeared as a rebuttal witness on measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

He said that since the eighteenth amendment was enacted a generation comprising one third of the voting population had reached a majority and was entitled to a vote on the question of prohibition. This with the rapidity with which the amendment was adopted during the World war he said warranted reporting out the bill now before this committee so that the will of the people may be determined after 10 years experience with a law that [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] before [illegible] its passage.

VICTIMS OF BLAZE READY FOR BURIAL

318 Former Prisoners Rest in Improvised Morgue; Suicide Rumors False.

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Twelve long rows of caskets—their sombre grey, blue and pale pink colors reflecting dimly in the early daylight—rested on tables today in the temporary morgue bearing the mortal remains of 318 convicts whose lives were snuffed out in the Ohio penitentiary fire Monday night.

Soldiers stood at attention at the end of the long rows. Each casket containing a broken and burned form of what was a man stood open and at the foot of each rested a floral piece—a remembrance of the State of Ohio to the men who locked in their cells and trapped like rats [illegible] their [illegible]

Rumors Refuted

[illegible] rumors that some of the dead had committed suicide or were shot to death by guards during the turmoil [illegible] [illegible] were [illegible] today. [illegible] Capt. [illegible] Weir [illegible] in charge of the morgue. He said [illegible] one of the bodies showed evidence of a shot or of suicide.

Captain Weir told of the work in the morgue—a [illegible] task for the undertakers. First, he said, his men made certain [illegible] all were dead. At 2 a. m. Tuesday the work of embalming started. Exactly 24 hours later all bodies had been embalmed, dressed and placed in the caskets.

Later today the saddened relatives and friends of the victims were to be permitted to visit with their dead. Claimants of bodies were to be recognized in this order—widows, then parents, brothers or sisters, sons and daughters, distant relatives and [illegible] close friends.

Recheck Made

A recheck of the dead was being made to make identifications certain. All corpses were being finger printed and these were to be compared with prison records.

Saddened by the tragedy, Governor Myers Y. Cooper visited the morgue during the morning.

Before noon relatives and friends of the dead were admitted to the building. Many of the women were crying, their grief being shared by Mrs. Preston Thomas, wife of the warden, who looked upon the forms of many of the men she knew and to whom she had administered in prison.

The Red Cross established a first aid station [illegible] the morgue. Rough [illegible] in which caskets were to be [illegible] [illegible] to be broken. Many of these were sent back to manufacturers who were ordered to supply new ones.

Besides preparing the bodies for burial the state furnished the robes and caskets and provided transportation to their homes. Relatives unable to travel to Columbus may telegraph instructions to Warden Thomas at the penitentiary.

PLAN BURIALS FOR MARION VICTIMS

Four of Six From Here To Die in Fire Are To Be Returned For Funerals

[illegible] of [illegible] six men [illegible] from Marion in the Ohio state penitentiary death list will be given funerals here Thursday and Friday. No [illegible] [illegible] made arrangements [illegible] for the other two men who were [illegible] burned to death in the [illegible]

Gerano Salinas, 27, [illegible] will be buried in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery Friday morning according to the last report. His widow, Mrs. Ida Salinas was making funeral [illegible] this morning.

To Be Brought Here Today

Salinas' body will be brought [illegible] M. H. Gunder funeral home West Center [illegible] [illegible] funeral services at [illegible] Friday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church.

Services for Ralph R. Gibson, [illegible] penitentiary records as Paul Gibson [illegible] will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the C. F. [illegible] East Center st. Gibson was 33 years old and was born in Marion Nov. [illegible] 1897 [illegible] Norman Henry Gibson, who preceded him in death.

One brother, Marlin Gibson and two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Kimberling and Mrs. Lottie Miller, all of Marion, are living. The Rev. W. Martell George, pastor of Wesley M. E. church will preach the funeral services. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

Until the bodies of Fred Ames and Edward Upchurch are brought to Marion arrangements for their funerals will not be made. The body of Upchurch will be brought from the Ohio State fairgrounds [illegible] to Marion some time this afternoon in the Hess, Merkert & Ax[illegible] car. Upchurch was the Marion man who might have saved his own life if he had gone to the Mansfield reformatory instead of choosing the penitentiary when he was sentenced March 27.

To Send for Body

As soon as the Schaffner-Queen Co. receives word from penitentiary officials, a car will be sent to Columbus for the body of Fred Ames to bring it back to Marion.

No move has been made by any relatives or friends here to claim the body of Frank Z. Sams, about whom there is little known here except that he was serving a one-year sentence for burglarizing an uninhabited dwelling.

It is probable that services for Harry E. Duncan, identified with the [illegible] D. & M. robbery several years ago, will be arranged for by his relatives in Zanesville or Columbus, the address he gave as his home.

Scene of Pathos Enacted by Relatives of Dead

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—They came to claim their dead today—the widows, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters of the 318 convicts who lost their lives in the Ohio penitentiary fire.

Timidly and tearfully they formed in a mass against the bars of the office gate of the big grey prison, where smoke snuffed out the lives of their loved ones. Inside at a little table sat a [illegible] pen in hand and reference book before him to pass [illegible] beyond the [illegible] gate [illegible] the custody of Miss Amanda Thomas, daughter of the warden and Dan Bonzo, chief record clerk.

Miss Thomas, tight-lipped, sorted cards and passed out information while Bonzo aided her. They both were acting for Warden Preston E. Thomas, who had issued the orders for the claiming of the dead.

Lines of Sorrow

Faces pressed against the bars. Tired, weary faces. Faces with lines of tragedy drawn across them by the indelible ink of the catastrophe. Among the scores of kinfolk to Ohio's prison dead stood women weeping. Around them the more composed members of the crowd had drawn in [illegible] circles—allowing them [illegible] small degree to be alone in their

TRANSFER 140 MEN TO OTHER PRISONS

20 Convicts Go to State Hospital for Insane; 100 to London Prison Farm

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—One hundred and forty convicts of Ohio penitentiary where 318 prisoners lost their lives in a fire Monday night today were ordered sent to other state institutions to relieve over crowded conditions in the prison here.

One hundred went to the London prison farm, 20 to the Lima state hospital for the insane and 20 to the Roseville brick plant. It was announced no transfers would be made to the Lancaster City brick plant which is crowded to capacity.

Chief Deputy Warden J. C. Woodard ordered that a dozen other men listed as insane be sent to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

The 12 convicts, handcuffed together and some wearing bandages and bearing [illegible] [illegible] were removed to Lima during the morning. They were early as they were brought out of the prison being [illegible] by many women and men who had called at the prison to get burial permits for loved ones who perished in the fire.

Marion appeared to be faring slightly better than other sections but the frost last night is feared to have taken a heavy toll of the local fruit crop.

An unseasonable cold snap last [illegible] temperatures [illegible] down to 26 degrees last night to be followed at noon today by sharp snow flurries which disappeared as suddenly as they came.

A second [illegible] of damaging frosts is officially forecast tonight. Severity of freezing temperatures will range from light to heavy throughout the state. Partly cloudy conditions Thursday are expected to replace fair weather today.

Unestimated damage was done Marion county fruit crops last night. At the Lawrence Fruit Farms east of the city, the sharp temperatures caught early apple trees in full bloom and pinched cherry trees also in blossom.

Total damage to fruit crops done throughout the state last night is expected to run into thousands of dollars although the cold snap was most severe in the northern half of the state.

Around Wooster peaches and cherries were damaged but apples were not seriously affected. In the Youngstown section a temperature of 20 degrees injured early apples and plums. Similar reports were given by fruit growers farther west in the state.

With [illegible] [illegible] proclaiming the belief that [illegible] gone for good, the [illegible] temperatures was a surprise to Marion [illegible] The low mark of 26 was reported after a sharp decline of [illegible] degrees yesterday afternoon.

Governor's Board of Inquiry Puts Thomas on Stand To Ascertain Facts Regarding Every Possible Angle of Penitentiary Disaster.

DEATH TODAY INCREASES TOLL TO 318

Investigation Is Resumed as Relatives of Dead Men Assemble in Tragic Group To Arrange for Burial of Victims.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—(AP)—Warden Preston E. Thomas of Ohio penitentiary was summoned to appear again this afternoon before the board investigating the tragic fire that took the lives of 318 prisoners in four cell blocks Monday night.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, heading the inquiry, said the warden would be asked to answer these questions:

What arrangements were made to take care of any emergency such as that which attended the holocaust?

What specific arrangements were made to handle fire?

What equipment was available to fight fire?

What information he has learned as to the cause of the blaze that sent dense clouds of smoke rolling through six ranges while the victims were locked in their cells?

The warden testified before the board yesterday but the inquiry has revealed new angles which require explanation from him.

The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] whether [illegible] were fired during the fire. The step was taken after the [illegible] finding of two exploded shot gun shells on the floor of the gutted G and H cell block.

A. E. Nice, Columbus fire chief, told the investigating board that he believed none of the 318 prisoners who died would have been lost had they been released from their cells as soon as the fire was discovered.

"I believe every man could have been saved," Nice said.

The fact that the first alarm came from a box outside the prison showed that there was delay on the part of those inside the penitentiary in sounding an alarm, he declared.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, heading the inquiry, asked the chief which of the prison officials was in charge [illegible]

"I do not know," he answered. "I don't think anybody [illegible] In fact I don't believe anyone could have [illegible]

"It was [illegible] But they were [illegible]" Chief Nice [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] firemen [illegible] were [illegible] the hose and [illegible] powered them. It was not [illegible] [illegible] however [illegible] the convicts were doing their best to help [illegible]

The death list was increased to 318 today when one of the hundreds of injured in the prison hospital succumbed this morning. Four others are expected to die momentarily.

Examine Cells

The investigating committee sought to determine the cause of the fire to fix the nature of the cell construction [illegible] those inside before they began to question more witnesses at the second day session of the committee.

F. J. Jenkins, superintendent of construction at the penitentiary told the committee it was reported to him Monday afternoon that electric lights used to illuminate the I and K cell block while under construction had been flickering. The trouble was eliminated at 3 p. m. he said but it was definitely established that there had been difficulty with the wiring.

The committee also learned that woodwork used in the construction was soaked with paraffin oil to keep concrete from sticking to the molding forms.

The rafters of the G and H cell block were of wood and covered with a wooden sheeting.

Planned New Roof

The outside roof was of slate as was the roof over the old building in which the new I and K cell blocks were being constructed. Jenkins said it was planned to replace the old roof with a concrete roof after the walls of the block were constructed. The [illegible] walls of the building would not support a concrete roof, he said.

The committee established that all prisoners in the sixth tier of the G and H block died of suffocation [illegible] that fire as well as smoke had caused [illegible] the other deaths. Some prisoners were rescued from the fourth and fifth tiers. The [illegible] end of the [illegible] was charred by fire but the [illegible] end had not been [illegible]

Prisoners Quiet Down and Fear of Uprising Vanishes

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—A spirit of unrest among the thousands of convicts early today in Ohio State penitentiary, scene of the tragic fire Monday night, disappeared at dawn and the fears of guards that there would be trouble was dissipated.

The fact that 600 negro convicts housed in wooden barracks in the yard were not locked in and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] cell blocks were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for liberty between [illegible] [illegible] a. m. today. The negro [illegible] were not locked in because [illegible] officials feared fire in the wooden building. The men in [illegible] [illegible] which is known as [illegible] [illegible] were locked in behind steel cages but were not in their cells.

Calls Conference

At 4 a. m. when cell block guards reported the unrest and the defiant attitude of some of the men, acting Capt. H. F. Lockhardt in charge in place of Capt. John Hall, who was [illegible] called national guard officers into conference. He reported that he expected some sort of trouble before dawn, and asked that guardsmen out

• • Judging the value of a motor car is just a common sense matter of weighing what it gives you against what it costs—and the obvious starting point is the amount of money you have to spend. ¶ What will $1,000 buy in today's motor car market? A few months ago, such a sum would limit you to a six-cylinder car—now it will buy a straight eight—a Chrysler-built De Soto—the lowest-priced eight in the world. ¶ By every standard of value, the De Soto Eight is a true leader. You may think of it in terms of low price—but you will buy it because of its high quality. A few minutes behind the wheel will convince you, beyond all doubt, that an equal number of dollars cannot buy its equal from any other source.

You ARE PAYING FOR A PACKARD
Why not own one?

The important thing to consider in the buying of a motor car is not the price of purchase—but the cost of owning.

There are eight items of cost involved in owning any automobile—license, garage and insurance; gasoline, oil and tires; repairs and depreciation.

Compare these costs as between a Packard Standard Eight and any car of its size down to half its price and you will find:

That the license cost for the Packard is little if any more.

That garage cost is the same.

That insurance may be slightly higher, but only by a few dollars annually.

That the three operating items—gas, oil and tires—show no advantage for either car.

And that repairs for the Packard, for reasons which you will readily appreciate, actually cost less.

Finally, you will find that depreciation—the one big item of ownership expense—costs no more for the Packard than for a half-price car, provided the Packard is driven twice as long. And this offsets the difference in purchase price.

It is literally true, therefore, that you are paying Packard ownership costs if you are driving a car of like size and trading it in every year or two—without enjoying the advantages of Packard performance, Packard comfort, beauty and distinction.

Why not, then, have the Packard?

The price of the most popular model of the Packard Standard Eight—the five-passenger Sedan—is but $2485 at the factory. Ten other body styles are available on the 127½ and 134½-inch wheelbases at from $2425 to $2885.

We will gladly accept your present car as cash. If it is of average value it will make or exceed the down payment on your Packard Standard Eight. The remainder can be arranged in convenient monthly payments—so that you take possession of your Packard with no cash outlay whatever.

When may we serve you?

The newest and finest in 8-cylinder Quality
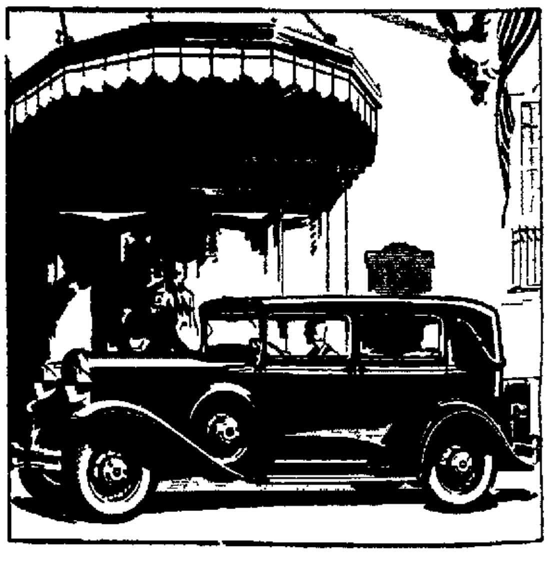
and a new scale of low ownership costs



Come see how economical a fine "Eight" can be. Hudson combines eight cylinder quality with the low first cost and maintenance of cars that heretofore dominated the medium-priced field.

Here is a quality "Eight" in the "Six" price range. Here is an "Eight" of outstanding performance and economy. Here is a car to bring back your first thrills in motoring.

Power is increased in proportion to weight. Performance is alert, free, active. Such ability means smoothness, and freedom from fatigue. It assures minimum wear and a long-lived car.

And with this mechanical excellence, Hudson's Great Eight, in beauty and rich appointments, questions the wisdom of ever paying more for any car.

Polly's "Past" Revealed in Third Show of Mimes

Cast Works Well in Public Show of Little Theater Group; Doris Davis Scores Hit in Leading Role as Slightly "Wicked" French Woman.

[illegible]arion Mimes added "Polly [illegible]ast" to the list of their productions with the first [illegible] last night at Central [illegible] school. "Polly" clicked [illegible]ing to end, and the audi[illegible] [illegible] and enjoyed humor of [illegible] Polly's going to have a [illegible] tonight for those who [illegible] see her last night.

[illegible] With A Past," by Guy Bol[illegible] George Middleton, is the [illegible]ory of a minister's daugh[illegible] [illegible]g as a French adventuress, [illegible]pe of bringing two young [illegible]gether. Doris Davis was a [illegible]ightful and effervescently "Paulette Bady," and such a [illegible] and charming "Polly Shan[illegible]" Ina Claire may have done on Broadway, but Marion's [illegible]ouldn't be any better in the [illegible] Mrs. Wilson B. Tway directed [illegible]

Cast Works Well

[illegible] way the cast worked last night at putting over their comedy, was worthy of the laughs which this work earned. W. W. Clarke and Lewis M Francis, as "Harry Richardson" and "Clay Collins" two chums who are responsible for all the mixups that develop, were fine. Rather bewildered by having to make love to a French woman to win the heart of the girl he loves, Robert Uncapher as "Rex Van Zile" gets a great deal out of his part.

There's a marked contrast in the coloring of blond "Paulette Bady" and brunette "Myrtle Davis." Miss Gladys Brobst, the girl Rex is in love with when the play opens. "Miss Davis" is a girl who thinks much more of people and appreciates them more fully after she has reformed them. That's where the fun begins.

There isn't a part in the play that hasn't some merits, and all of them are blessed with lines that draw the laughs.

Mrs. Frances Hume as "Mrs. Van Zile," the 60 year old mother of "Rex," whom she considers in the toils of an adventuress, does a neat job as the aristocratic old woman who finally comes to her senses and does the generous thing. Then there's the "Commodore," Jay Vaughan. When he says, "Ah, just a trifle, eh," regarding one of "Mlle. Paulette's" bathing suits, the actors themselves had a hard time playing parts instead of going into laughter.

She Reforms 'Em

A short but choice part is that of A. L. Hinkle as "Stiles," one of the reformed drunkards of "Myrtle Davis." The audience began to like "Stiles" more and more, and finally waited for him to put in an appearance. The part of "Mrs. Davis," mother of the girl who loved people more after she had reformed them, was played by Hallie Houck.

A gay philanderer who was called in to settle things with the terrible French woman, didn't know his women, as he himself had to acknowledge. Asa Queen was the man of the world who was taken for the count by "Paulette."

Listed as "The Stranger," we won't take the pleasure of finding out who Sherman Haldeman is in the play. But he's good and his identity is one of the big moments of "Polly With a Past." Miss Evelyn Long is "Parker," the Van Zile maid. Mrs. Victor Dombaugh was at the piano.

This play is the last public production of the Mimes this spring, and will be given again tonight.

Music was furnished by the High School Orchestra under the direction of T. R. Evans.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS AT CALVARY CHURCH

Rev. R. L. Bush, of Sebring, O., Tells of 20 Years in African Field.

The Rev. R. L. Bush, of Sebring, O., returned missionary from 20 years of work in Africa, addressed a large congregation last night at Calvary Evangelical church. The address came as a program of a joint meeting of the Women's Missionary society and the Circle.

Mrs. C. R. Reelhower, president of the missionary society, presided, and Miss Margaret Lusch, president of the Circle, gave the address of welcome. A chorus of 25 of the circle girls under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Wood, gave a program. Mrs. W. D. McKisson was at the organ.

The Rev. Mr. Bush made an appeal for Christian young men and women to dedicate their lives to home or foreign mission work. There were eight responses of young people who expressed willingness to do missionary work. The lecture was illustrated with 35 enlarged photographs of actual scenes and people in Africa.

A silver offering of $20.32 was taken to go for mission work.

Government officials are now well enough paid to justify them in abandoning that feeling that they are merely volunteers, working for the public good.

A London cable says the financial and business interests of Britain do not like the Labor ministry's boosting of the income tax. That's what we would call stating the case mighty mildly.

And now William B. Shearer, demands a senatorial investigation of the "subsidized internationalist and pacificist organizations" which have been so active in connection with the London naval conference just closed. What's the use? The whole world knows of their activities, and would have known even had they not boasted about them.

A Washington dispatch says that the banks of the district are planning shorter banking hours, but is silent on the subject of more bank holidays. Can it be that the poor, overworked bankers are overlooking the latter method of accomplishing relief?

The attorney general of the province of Toronto has warned liquor exporters along the border to empty and discontinue using dock storage warehouses. Those who assumed that the Canadian government wasn't doing more than making a gesture of damming the flow of her liquor into this country will probably realize one of these days that they have another guess coming.

Plagues of Locusts.

Several days ago, a Cairo cable carried the information that the Egyptian government had appropriated $3,000,000 and organized an army to combat the plague of locusts which were devastating the fertile fields of the Nile delta.

"A plague of locusts" means very little to the average young American when he sees reference to such a plague in print, and it may mean little to the average American of major years, but if reference were made to a plague of grasshoppers, many of those past middle life would understand what is meant, for what are referred to in the Cairo cable as locusts are known here as the dark-colored winged grasshoppers frequently seen along the highways and in the fields. And many of them would understand the term, plague, for back four or five decades, our Middle Western states suffered greatly from just such plagues as are menacing Egypt and working havoc in Arabia now.

In those days, a farmer in what is now known as the grain belt might look out his window in the morning and see a thriving stand of grain, and yet at nightfall find that it had disappeared before the onslaughts of millions of grasshoppers.

Old timers familiar with the ravages of grasshoppers in the western states years ago, can readily credit the tale of a camel driver, carried in a story from Basra, Iraq, who said upon his arrival there that he had traveled for twelve days from central Arabia and that his camel had walked on locusts the entire trip, while more of the pests had eaten away the saddle and harness of his camel and his own sandles.

And these same old-timers will be able to appreciate another story telling of the joy of the inhabitants of a little Arabian village when a strong wind arose just as myriads of locusts were about to invade the adjacent fields and blew the incests into the Persian gulf, where they were drowned, their bodies covering the waters of the gulf as far as the eye could reach.

The villages looked on the rising of the wind which caused the destruction of the locusts as something in the nature of a miracle, and it may be that it will take something partaking of the nature of a miracle to make some people credit such stories as these from Arabia, but there probably are a number of people here in our own city who will readily give credence to both of them as a result of their personal knowledge of the devastation worked by grasshoppers in the old days out in the West.

The Case of Judge Parker.

From Washington advices it is gleaned that Judge John J. Parker does not intend to withdraw as a nominee for a place as associate justice on the United States supreme bench despite the opposition of the two organizations fighting his confirmation and the adverse vote of the senate judiciary committee.

The two organizations to which reference is made are the American Federation of Labor and the Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The opposition of the former organization is due to a decision rendered in a West Virginia coal miners' case in which he approved what was referred to as the "yellow dog" contract. It may be said, in this connection, that the judge, in rendering his decision, simply followed a decision of the United States supreme court. The opposition of the latter organization is based on a statement made by the judge as the Republican candidate for governor of North Carolina back in 1920.

"The negro as a class does not desire to enter politics," said Judge Parker at that time. "The Republican party of North Carolina does not desire him to do so. We recognize the fact that he has not yet reached that stage in his development when he can share the burdens and responsibilities of government. This being true, and every intelligent man in North Carolina knows that it is true, the attempt of certain petty Democratic politicians to inject the race issue into every campaign is most reprehensible.

"I say it deliberately, there is no more dangerous or contemptible enemy of the state than men who for personal or political advantages will attempt to kindle the flame of racial prejudice or hatred. The participation of the negro in politics is a source of evil and danger to both races and is not desired by the wise men in either race or by the Republican party of North Carolina."

While it is to be conceded that there may be political dynamite in the situation, it may be just as well that Judge Parker has reached the decision he has. It will bring the fight against him before the senate and give the country opportunity to learn how the members of that body will react to the opposition of this or that organization to nominations for the supreme bench, for it is entirely reasonable that if the opposition of one or two organizations will estop confirmation by the senate in one case, the opposition of one or two organizations may prevent confirmation in another.

If such proves to be the case, it will not be at all difficult to foresee a time when men of standing and ability will refuse to even so much as consider a nomination to the federal supreme bench; a time when the only nominations possible of confirmation will be those of men without any record whatever, and the highest judicial tribunal in the land will be made up of hopeless mediocrities.

In the Literary Digest's poll, Chicago thus far has cast 15,865 votes for enforcement, 36,412 for modification and 62,647 for repeal. We are beginning to suspect that those Chicagoans are a trifle moist.

W. Z. Foster and three of his red lieutenants who felt called upon to harangue the court, were given indeterminate sentences for inciting a riot in New York March 6, which means imprisonment for from six months to three years, while a fourth lieutenant, who realized that silence is sometimes golden, was let off with a workhouse sentence of thirty days. All things considered, it may be just as well for law and order, with May day near at hand, that the four leaders were unable to control their inclination to talk.

Gandhi is said to deplore the violence which has resulted from his civil disobedience revolt. That's the trouble with any revolt. It is inevitable that it will let loose forces over which those responsible for it have no control and lead to acts possibly never contemplated by them.

The Women's Christian Temperance union has issued a statement, charging the wets with having failed in every point in their testimony before the house judiciary committee, and as soon as the women connected with the movement against prohibition tell us about the failure of the drys to impress the same committee, we will know that the situation is once again normal—both sides claiming according to schedule.

"We expect to carry the cases of Irene Shrader and Glen Hague as far as possible; to the United States supreme court, if necessary," the pastor of a New Castle, Pennsylvania, church stated a day or two ago for publication. There's never any telling what course some people will pursue to gain publicity.

London is said to be fearful that Britain may lose more gold to France. This is the same France which for years has been crying about its poverty, despite the fact that it is flourishing, hasn't any unemployment problem at a time when most other countries have, and the same France which has the largest per capita gold holding of any nation on the earth.

Gifford Pinchot, who seeks to be elected governor of Pennsylvania again, is reported as denouncing the platform of Francis Skunk Brown, his rival for the Republican nomination. Well says Ole for Gifford; he's one grand little denouncer, an expert by long years of experience in that line.

Stating that the shifting of the Gulf stream toward our eastern seacoast will not affect the climate along the coastline, the chief hydrographic engineer of the navy department says: "The Gulf stream is an integrated effect of a great variety of natural causes, mineralogical and oceanographical, and these causes are variable in their effects; but on the whole and in the long run, this gives the stream a normal position which is varied from time to time by these causal influences." Wouldn't it be wonderful to be able to talk so illuminatingly as that?

Editorial Opinion.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS.

The annual observance of a week devoted to the slogan, "Be Kind to Animals," occurs this week from Monday to Sunday. It is part of an educative movement that has far more than a sentimental value. Kindness to animals will be preached this week in schools throughout America. * * * * * National organizations are offering prizes for essays, poems and cartoons, produced by school children, best expressing the spirit of the humane movement.

By kindness to animals is not meant only the cherishing of pets and domestic beasts, which ordinarily are well treated, but also an interest and sympathy directed to our great and fascinating variety of birds and what remains of our once great plain and woodland fauna. The purpose of this recurrent annual celebration, which is stressed chiefly in the schools, is to substitute intelligent curiosity and friendliness for the hard-dying hunting instinct.

Even to the amateur naturalist who studies their lives, the so-called dumb beasts of the wild become as fascinating as the antics of his dog or cat or other pet. General realization of this fact is the ultimate goal of the "Be Kind to Animals" movement. It is not meant merely to prevent cruelty to animals, although that is part of its function, but also to promote interest and understanding regarding all forms of animal life.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GAGGING THE PRESS.

The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, assembled in annual meeting in Washington, again calls attention to the Minnesota "gag" law and the fight that is being made against it. This is the statute, as readers will recall, which empowers any judge in Minnesota to enjoin, without trial or hearing, any journal which in his opinion publishes malicious, scandalous or defamatory articles. The state courts have upheld its validity and in 1927 a Minneapolis weekly was suspended under its authority.

The Chicago Tribune thereupon started a movement to get the law into the United States supreme court for an opinion on its constitutionality. At a meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association in New York, a year ago this month, Colonel McCormick reported for the committee created to carry on the fight against a statute which he described as "tyrannical, despotic, un-American and oppressive." The committee found that it establishes courts of equity and censors and licensers of the press, allows grafting politicians to remain in office by preventing exposure of their wrongdoings, and generally violates that freedom of the press guaranteed by the constitution of the United States. The purpose in seeking to obtain a supreme court ruling on it is to forestall the spread of the principle involved in it to other states, for if one state can enact and sustain such a law, any other state legislature can enact and the judges of any other state can enforce, a similar law.

At no time in the history of this country has there been greater need of a vigilant and free press to hold public officials to the honest performance of their duties than there is today. At no other time have many public officials have been so brazen in their attempts to discredit and even destroy the newspapers that dare expose them. The Minnesota "gag" law is a weapon fashioned to the hand of corruption, against which the hand of every self-respecting and patriotic newspaper in the country should be uplifted in defiant protest. — Detroit Free Press.

INCREASED AIR MAIL RATES.

A recommendation to increase the present air mail postage rates of five cents an ounce may follow if congress passes the Watres bill to change the compensation from a mileage to a poundage basis. Postmaster General Brown told the house committee on rules that President Hoover favored the idea.

If postage rates must be advanced, the public will probably offer less opposition to changes in the aviation service costs than in any other classification of the department. The early cost of stamps for plane mail when the experiment was begun kept down the popular response. Now that the enterprise has been popularized by better patronage as a result of price concessions, possibly it has become sufficiently established to assure its continuance. Certainly where the time-saving element is important the beneficiaries should be willing to assume a share of the added burden.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

They're Often Somewhat Disturbing.

The worst red menace at this season of the year is that of your neighbor's Rhode Island Reds getting you up in bed. We believe in boiling those menaces in butter.—Los Angeles Times.

Might Save Many Lives.

Mechanical pilots are reported a success in huge army bombers. Why not apply the idea to motor cars?—Akron Beacon Journal.

The Word of God.

For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.—1 Corinthians 4:20.

Prayer: Lord, hasten by Thy power the coming of Thy kingdom.

Heat Prostration.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

When the first hot days come, with the thermometer soaring, you are treated to a free Turkish bath by the combination of humidity and heat. Perhaps you wonder if anything could be more uncomfortable. For many, such a day may prove fatal. How it will affect you depends upon whether you are in proper physical condition.

On such a sweltering summer's day you often hear the remark, "It isn't the heat, it is the humidity that's so awful." As a matter of fact, the discomfort is the effect of both heat and humidity, plus the high pulse rate caused by both of them.

What happens when a person is "sunstruck" or "heatstruck?"

The heat causes the temperature of the body to rise, as well as the temperature of the blood. If the heat is continued long enough the blood vessels become paralyzed. The blood accumulates in the dilated veins and lungs. The pumping action of the heart is lessened, not being enough to drive the blood all around the body.

The attack may begin with headache, faintness, weakness and dizziness. The pulse becomes quite rapid. Usually the skin is hot and dry. Delirium may follow.

Let there be no delay in treating the patient, for death may result unless speedy help is given. The temperature must be lowered and the heart stimulated.

First, loosen or remove the clothing and sprinkle or sponge the body with cold water. If possible the patient should be put into a bathtub of cold water, making sure that cold bandages are applied to the head.

After this keep the body cool and the extremities warm. If the feet are cold, and they usually are, then heat should be applied as soon as the cold bath is over.

Should the patient be conscious let him inhale either ammonia or camphor, or he may swallow water containing a few drops of the aromatic spirits of ammonia or camphor. Make no effort to pour fluid down the throat of an unconscious person.

Rub the body and the feet and hands to keep the circulation going. When the patient is able to take it, give him a cup of hot, strong coffee or hot milk.

Scientists are endeavoring to find methods by which to combat heat prostration. Dr. W. J. McConnell, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, recently made experiments to determine the effects of heat on human beings. These tests were carried out with persons confined in cork-lined heat chambers.

Dr. McConnell explains how the pulse rate acts as a barometer. By this means an expert can tell whether the heat sufferer is near the danger point. As heat and humidity increase the circulatory organs try to keep the temperature constant. The blood is pumped to the surface by the heart and the skin becomes flushed. As the struggle within the body increases, so does the pulse rate increase.

It was found that ninety degrees Fahrenheit, when the air is saturated and still, is the highest temperature to which the body can safely adapt itself. With a brisk wind blowing, ninety-five degrees is the highest safe temperature. The most suitable conditions for working are from forty to seventy-five degrees. This data made it possible to predict how human-beings react to certain temperatures. Means were suggested for combating the hot weather perils.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

J. A. C. Q—What is the cause of bad breath?

A—May be due to decayed teeth, diseased tonsils, or constipation, which is the most frequent cause.

• • •

T. S. S. Q—What is good for removing superfluous hair?

A—The electric needle. But it must be employed by an expert.

• • •

A. B. Q—What would cause me to shiver and always feel cold?

A—Poor circulation would cause one to shiver and always feel cold. Build up your general health and your circulation will improve.

• • •

R. M. S. Q—How can I reduce?

A—Weight reduction is chiefly a matter of self-control as regards diet. Eat sparingly of starches, sugars and fats.

• • •

E. H. B. Q—What would you advise for Bright's disease?

A—Any one suffering with this disease should be under the care of a doctor.

Gliding and Aviation.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

To many, the new science of gliding is regarded as a pleasant, if slightly dangerous, form of sport for boys and youths. This is a very short-sighted view to take of this mode of navigation of the air. The glider is actually proving a powerful aid to aviation. The glider is cheap as compared to an airplane and affords a form of aviation for many people who can not afford the purchase of an airplane.

The advance of aviation during the past decade has been truly phenomenal. It is advancing by leaps and bounds, the present rate of advance being in proportion to its useful application in the affairs of our daily life.

With the recent development of the commercial sides of airplane transportation, the need for highly trained pilots is rapidly growing. Gliding is a mode adapted to the training of thousands of pilots for the sterner tasks of transportation of human freight in long distance air traffic.

Already an inventor has devised a combination automobile and airplane. At the end of the air flight one has only to fold up the wings and drive through heavy traffic to office or home. When this invention is perfected it will give an incalculable impetus to aircraft production.

Marvels in the way of flight may be accomplished in a glider. A soaring glider, of the type which holds the American record for flight duration, has a sixty-foot wing space and weighs less than 175 pounds. With a pilot of average weight the wing loading is only about one and one-half pounds per square foot. In such a soaring glider it is actually possible to remain aloft on wind velocities of less than ten miles per hour.

This achievement is only possible for a highly trained and experienced pilot. It is not difficult to acquire the rudiments of flight in a glider. But years might be expended in learning all that might be learned.

A competent aviator may succeed at gliding on the very first flight. For example, in his first attempt, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh succeeded in remaining in the air thirty-one minutes. Mrs. Lindbergh, on her first attempt, succeeded in remaining in the air nine minutes.

Before Colonel Lindbergh made any gliding flights Hawley Bowlus, holder of the American glider endurance record, cautioned him not to attempt to turn the glider while flying in a down draft. In making a turn, the glider customarily loses altitude; and if a turn is attempted while in a down draft, the glider suffers a double loss—the normal loss of altitude by the plane itself and the sinking due to the air moving downward.

So quickly did Colonel Lindbergh grasp this technical point of glider manipulation that he actually succeeded in making a turn with a gain in altitude of 150 feet!

Already some remarkable records have been hung up in the field of gliding, plane-sailing and soaring. A glider has been flown in dead air. Edward B. Heath has looped the loop four times in succession in a glider. Lieutenant Ralph S. Barnaby successfully took off recently in a glider from the dirigible "Los Angeles," and landed safely after twelve minutes of gliding. Hawley Bowlus established the present American endurance record for motorless gliding, remaining continuously in the air for nine hours, five minutes and 27 2-5 seconds. The world's record it is believed, is held by Lieutenant Dinort, who at Rositten, on the Baltic, in the summer of 1929, kept his soaring glider in the air for fourteen hours, forty-three minutes and twenty-five seconds.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

New York, April 23—The sudden return to prosperity of the Childs restaurants in New York has been one of the outstanding business achievements of the year. For a decade the chain of eateries paid enormous dividends and then almost over night went into a spin.

Many reasons were hinted. Among them was that the original owners had become vegetarians and were forcing the theory on patrons. Nearly all red-blooded meats were removed from the menu and the offerings were almost solely vegetarian dishes.

There was also established a rule that water should not be served unless there was a special request. This resulted in such a protesting howl it was quickly abandoned. Too, many of the places open all night became the haunts of pathological hybrids who chirrup along with hands on their hips.

Whatever the cause, the restaurants became almost deserted and a new management took over the reins. The old menu was restored. Tempting dishes that had been the backbone of the chain were featured and the deserters came trooping back.

Under the new regime, an effort has been made to get away from the glittering porcelain sanitization that somehow suggested an operating-room. New cafes were outfitted in a somber dignity with shaded lights—Turkish, Moorish and Spanish.

The most magnificent of all is the Spanish room in the basement of the Savoy Plaza with a fountain throbbing in its center, a medallioned ceiling of stained glass and balconies hanging with bright shawls. Marble-topped tables gave way to those of oak, scattered far apart.

There is a half-block-long soda fountain, a place to check hats and wraps and waiters in uniforms touched off with gold braid. For those who do not wish to order a la carte there is a $1.50 table d'hote. The only thing to be desired for many is the abolishment of paper napkins.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

One learns from the warden of Sing Sing prison that there are about 11,000 murders in the United States each year. Fewer than 100 of the killers pay the death penalty. Apparently capital punishment hasn't much to do with murder. The criminal, not being normal, hasn't much interest in death penalties. And if he is interested and thoughtful he can readily figure out that his chances of going to the chair or the gallows are not great. The fact remains that long imprisonment is greater punishment than death.

The Community church in New York, of which John Haynes Holmes is pastor, has set up a good-will court. Three judges will sit on cases. The verdicts will not have legal standing, but many sad differences of opinion may be straightened out and many a sad heart made happier. The church bulletin says of the court:

"Psychologists and health experts generally recognize that many physical and social diseases spring from embittered personal relations. These become centers from which infection spreads through the whole spiritual nature. Any one who cherishes a grudge or a sense of injustice in his relations with others is breeding evils in his own life and in the life of the community at large. He owes it to himself and it is one of his obligations as a citizen to have these difficulties cleared up as soon and as effectively as possible."

Chaplain Defends Action of Warden

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 23—The opinion that Warden Preston E. Thomas of Ohio penitentiary would have been killed had he entered the prison yard during the disastrous fire Monday night was expressed today by the Rev. Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain.

The penitentiary chaplain commenting on the fact that the warden ordered his chief deputy to take charge inside and himself took command outside to prevent any possible movement of prisoners over the walls said: "If Warden Thomas had stepped inside the walls of the penitentiary during the pandemonium of the fire he surely would have been killed. Those men had not thought of escape. They were thinking of those men perishing in the flames like moths. But they were enraged, angered because of the utter helplessness, because they were beyond the help of these gathered outside the walls."

[illegible] of the people of the United States.

Whether or not the efficiency of the workingman has been materially changed through prohibition is a question that cannot be definitely proved, Mr. Du Pont asserted. In dealing with this part of the subject prohibitionists take the attitude that a large percentage of workingmen consumed liquor to such an extent as to interfere with their daily work. He said that the [illegible] of 50 that investigated the liquor problem for a decade before prohibition estimated that not more than [illegible] per cent of the total male population drank enough to cause themselves injury.

grief. Mothers, old and sorrowful, glanced first at the bars which for varying periods had shut off their sons from the outside world and then beyond them at the filing clerk who might have known their errant ones who died in the smoke.

Here, half abashed as he entered the door to present his claims, stood a father not long from the old country who seemed not quite to comprehend it all. There the doll like face of a young girl was wet with weeping.

At 9 a. m. today there was a brisk order from the guard.

"Stand back—stand back—men are coming out handcuffed together."

To Another Abode

And the men came—12 prisoners who had been ordered transferred to the Lima state hospital for the insane by their keepers.

The mass of mourners parted and the early, bearded prisoners passed looking neither to the right nor left. Then the solid mass of the dead united again—under a common sorrow.

As occasional flash light pictures were taken the mourners blinked dazed and startled that the public should so intrude upon their grief.

The big clock in the warden's office ticked off the hours, the crowd thinned—each going his way into the spring sunshine bearing the permit which entitled him to bury his dead.

This examination was ordered by Welfare Director Hal Griswold who said he wished to put to flight wild rumors which invariably follow a thing such as this. Griswold promised the most thorough investigation in the state's history to fix blame for the disaster and to see that the guilty ones if found did not go unpunished.

SOLEMN HIGH MASS IS SUNG FOR WOMAN

Son In Charge of Funeral Services for Mrs. Emma Von Kaenal

Solemn high mass was celebrated at the funeral of Mrs. Emma T. Von Kaenal at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Catholic church. Her son, the Rev. Father Robert Von Kaenal of Cincinnati, celebrated the mass assisted by the Rev. Father Arnold Farrer of Dayton, deacon, and the Rev. Father Michael A. Maher of Cincinnati, subdeacon. The Rev. Cletus A. Miller of Cincinnati officiated as master of ceremonies. The funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. Father Francis X. Colter, former pastor of St. Mary's parish here.

There were about 20 visiting priests at the services this morning from Cincinnati, Dayton, Galion, Springfield, Lebanon and other surrounding cities.

Mrs. Von Kaenel, whose home was at 540 East Center st., died Easter Sunday. Interment was made in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery.

WOODARD IN LINE FOR WARDEN POST

Hero of Fire Virtually Sure To Get Place If Thomas Is Suspended.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Should Warden P. E. Thomas be suspended as head of the Ohio state penitentiary, Deputy Warden James C. Woodard would probably succeed him according to all indications today.

Woodard was one of the outstanding heroes in the prison holocaust which claimed more than 300 lives.

All witnesses who appeared before the governor's investigating body highly praised the deputy warden.

Woodard, they said, assumed control of the courtyard of the prison which at the time of the fire was filled with panic-stricken prisoners who ran wildly about.

The man too quelled a near riot single handed. When prisoners in one dormitory threatened violence, Woodard, unarmed and unafraid, stood in the center of the milling, cursing convicts and pleaded with the almost crazed prisoners to remain quiet. He promised them that if they would stay in their quarters and not flee to the yard and add more confusion to the already excited mobs there he would unlock their quarters which would assure them of an avenue of escape if the fire would spread. The convicts listened and responded to his plea.

CHARTER MEMBERS HOSTS AT MEETING

Montgomery Grange Observes Ninth Anniversary of Founding of Organization.

Special To The Star

LARUE, April 23—Charter members of Montgomery grange entertained other members last night at the meeting of the organization. Each charter member wore a pink carnation and other members were given white carnations by their hosts.

The grange hall was decorated in pink and white, also the colors of a large cake, the gift of Harry Thibaut, the first master of the grange. Nine candles, one for each year of the grange's history, were placed on the cake.

Roll call was read from the original membership list which contained 75 members. Thirty-seven of the original members are still active in the work of the grange.

Minutes of the first and second meetings together with a history of the grange were read by Master Karl Miller. Charter members sang several songs followed by readings by Juanita Bridge and Mrs. A. C. Wilson. Each past master present and charter members made short talks.

Visitors were present from Maple and Lance Creek granges in Hardin county. The next meeting on May 14 will be featured by a stunt night, it was announced last night by the lecturer. Twenty-three applications were signed for the next Pomona meeting.

ARREST MADE IN HOLLYWOOD DEATH

Suspect Confesses Killing William Desmond Taylor, Police Report.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Police early today arrested Roger Rinaldo, 40, an assistant, and booked him on suspicion of the murder on Feb. 1, 1922, of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director. Rinaldo, who said he had been living in Tucson, Ariz., since the night of the murder, is said to have confessed to the slaying.

Rinaldo's arrest was the result of recent investigation by members of the police homicide squad of various angles of the Taylor murder mystery. Rinaldo was said to have voluntarily confessed to Detectives Joseph Taylor and James Bean of the homicide detail shortly after he was taken into custody.

While Rinaldo's story coincides in minute detail with the known facts of the case, police were inclined to doubt his confession until a careful check has been made.

OUT OF DANGER

Mark Wooley Reported Recovering from Gas Fumes.

Mark Wooley is out of danger at City hospital, the report said today. Wooley was overcome Monday night by carbon monoxide fumes from a coal stove in the house in which he slept at the Wooley Stone Quarry, north of Marion. It was thought for some time that it would be impossible to revive him, but oxygen was brought into use at City hospital, and he rested comfortably last night. Wooley's home is in Kenton.

DEBATE ON PARKER TO START MONDAY

Administration Leaders Still Hopeful of Effecting Confirmation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The question of confirming or rejecting the nomination of Judge John J. Parker as an associate justice of the supreme court will be taken up by the senate on Monday.

Administration leaders were hopeful that the appointment will be approved in spite of the adverse vote in the judiciary committee and the opposition of Negro and labor organizations. They conceded privately however that the outcome was doubtful and said a close vote was in prospect.

With Republican ranks widely split, the supporters of the nominee had been counting heavily upon votes from the Democratic side of the chamber, but there were indications today of unexpected opposition developing there.

Senator Borah, who is leading the opposition, predicts that a vote will be reached after two or three days of debate.

A move to take up the nomination tomorrow was made by Borah late yesterday but Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant Republican leader, urged that consideration be deferred until Monday.

"Jacqueline On Her Own"

DRAMATIC STORY OF ACTION, ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE

BY RICHARD STARR

(Copyright 1930, by the Author)

CHAPTER 23

Subterfuge

AFTER that Jacqueline set herself to enjoy life with a sort of desperate earnestness, determined to get as much value as possible out of the rapidly diminishing store of money which was left to her

But she found it uphill work Many times every day she dismissed Teddy summarily from her mind, and told herself sternly that she would not think of him again But as a subject for reflection she found him rather hard to dismiss

She was relieved when Mr Carew came one afternoon Any company was acceptable which would distract her thoughts even if it did not un please it

She found herself now sometimes thinking that she would be precious glad when this so-called glad time of hers was finished and she had to go back and work for her living again She had always found that when you had to work pretty hard for your living you had not nearly so much time to think of unhappy things In places like Byrams particularly one did not have a lot of time to reflect on unprofitable things

But Mr Carew had not come it seemed to suggest another evening's enjoyment.

I want you to come with me to see a friend who wishes to see you, and is unhappily unable to come to you he said.

Good gracious," said Jacqueline "What do you mean, Mr. Carew? I —have no friends."

"You must allow me to differ from you there" he answered with a significant look I for one must ask to be allowed to count myself your friend"

"Very nice of you," replied Jacqueline Who is the other"

Mrs Porter Mason."

'Good gracious' Where is Mrs Mason and why does she want to see me and—what is it all about, Mr Carew?

I have found out at last where Mrs Mason is, said Carew "She is in the country, at a place called Talverton, some 30 miles from here. She is staying with some friends As a matter of fact she went home with them after the raid on the night club and has been ill ever since Shock you know She is still far from well I went to see her yesterday and she begged me to come again and bring you She wants very much to see you

"Couldn't Mrs Porter Mason have written to me?"

"She has been too ill"

'But now? Does she expect me to accept an invitation from you?"

Not at all" replied Carew "I have a letter from her for you"

The letter explained the case exactly as Carew had described it Jacqueline, with her ready sympathy, immediately felt it her duty to respond

She felt rather ashamed of herself because all the time she had been hiding a certain amount of suspicion at the bottom of her heart even though the detective had distinctly said that there was nothing discreditable about Mrs. Porter Mason

How am I to get there?"

I have a car at the door" said Carew "It is a beautiful day and a nice run of about 30 miles or so It was Mrs. Mason's suggestion that I should motor you down I can get you back fairly early in the evening"

Jacqueline agreed Well wrapped up in her new fur coat, and looking a picture of girlish sweetness Carew drove her carefully through the city and the east end, and out of town through Romford and Brentwood

In the city a man stopped dead on the pavement, and looked after the car with a dazed expression

It was Teddy Montrose 'It's that American scoundrel' he muttered fiercely I'd like to choke him I don't trust him He's a squirt. I suppose she has forgotten me.

The traffic was going at a crawl From the pavement he could almost have touched her with his stick But she had not seen him

Teddy had seen in her face a look of unhappiness There were faint shadows under the brown eyes, and a little downward droop at the corners of her soft, childish mouth.

'Any way,' reflected Teddy, "she doesn't look so darned happy over it"

Which though he honestly had no wish for her to be unhappy, was a reflection that seemed to cheer him up He went on his way, still frowning thoughtfully but swinging his stick with an air of jauntiness

Presently he muttered "Very well Let him have her for today It may not be for long The end is not yet as the fellow says in the book and the world is full of a number of things'

* * *

By the aid of the dash lamp Jacqueline looked at her watch It was nearly 9 30

They were crawling along in a thick fog at about four miles an hour From the narrowness and roughness of the road it was very clear to her that they were not by any means on a main road

She was getting more and more exasperated and knew that it was a question of minutes before she gave Mr Carew what she called a piece of her mind

The drive had been a chapter of accidents First there had been a burst tire which had taken nearly an hour to change Then they had run out of gasoline Then there was a puncture Then something went wrong with the engine, and a prolonged stay at a garage was necessary

Finally, Jacqueline insisted that they must give up all hope of reaching Talverton that night, and must immediately return to London

So Mr Carew had turned the car and taken what he described as a short cut to make up for the time they had lost But on the short cut further minor troubles had developed They were in a thick fog and there was not the slightest sign of the main road which Carew insisted they would reach at any moment.

Eventually the car slowed up by easy stages and came to a halt

'What's the matter now" asked Jacqueline acidly "Another puncture or is it only a wheel off"

I believe we're lost," returned Mr Carew dismally. 'In fact I feel sure we are'

"That's cheerful Well, what are you going to do about it?"

"We must keep on, I suppose At least until we come somewhere This fog is very dangerous, and we ought to put up somewhere until it clears"

'But will it clear?" asked Jacqueline inconsequently

"Not much likely to be any better until the morning These coastal fogs usually get worse"

Jacqueline became even more thoughtful. Her wits were remarkably clear, and she was getting very suspicious of Mr Carew She had the feeling that instead of getting nearer to London they were getting further away from it

She sat silent, and presently exactly as she had expected, the car stopped again with a wheeze and a grunt, and the engine abruptly ceased its musical hum

Something wrong again," muttered Carew, as he descended

Presently he straightened up He saw Jacqueline standing by his side her profile lighted up by the side-lamps. The fog, instead of straightening her hair had made it curl delightfully This, with the mutinous curve of her lips and the sullen smoulder of her eyes, made her look even more alluring than usual

Mr Carew suddenly, and without the least notice, caught her in his arms. 'Jacqueline, I love you'' he cried wildly.

The next moment she was crushed against him, she felt fierce kisses on her face and lips.

Kelvinator Demonstrates World's Fastest Freezing In Country-Wide Test

In a recent nation-wide test conducted by Kelvinator dealers, Kelvinator refrigerators in 48 states and the District of Columbia demonstrated the amazing average freezing time of 80 minutes—from water to solidly-frozen ice cubes.

All tests were attended and certified by responsible witnesses, including city officials, representatives of newspapers, universities, etc.

Super-fast freezing of this type is made possible only by Iso-Thermic Tubes—an exclusive Kelvinator device which concentrates intense cold in the freezing compartment—cutting the time of freezing from one-half to one-third the usual period.

Today Kelvinator brings to your home Four-Way Cold—an all-automatic type of refrigeration service never before obtainable.

It provides, in its de luxe models, four separate degrees of cold: (1) for extremely fast automatic freezing of ice and desserts; (2) a special Cold Storage Compartment, with below-freezing cold for keeping meats, fish, game, ice cream, etc., indefinitely; (3) steady cold for freezing ice at Kelvinator's fast speed; (4) controlled cold in food compartments always between 40 and 50 degrees.

Everyone can now own a Kelvinator

—on Easy Terms

The model Kelvinator you require may be purchased on easy terms through Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M LEWIS

WEDNESDAY I was crying when I woke up I don't know why I was crying Maybe it was because my mother said she was so happy I got up when I had wiped my eyes on the sheet and then I let Jubilee down and put on my britches and everything and went down and fixed my fires and took the pail and went out to the barn All the time I was milking I was wondering why the bunch didn't come, but none of them came and I went in and strained the milk and my ant was getting breakfast and my father and mother were sitting on the lounge with their arms around each other My mother was smiling but her eyes were full of tears and my father wiped her tears and kissed her and hugged her tighter, and my father said It is going to be a pretty extensive experience, but the doctor says we can let it drag along and pay a little at a time" My grandfather was setting by the stove and he snorted and blew his nose and said Extensive be darned! I guess I got some money It is a heck of a thing to make anyone a present of but this is going to be my present to Annabelle Lee' Then my ant set the pancakes on the table and snapped around at my grandfather and said I—I declare! You—you re darned near human sometimes' and then everyone began to laugh and my ant husted out crying and ran to her room and didn't come out to breakfast But she came out after my father had went to work and we all went to the hospital My teacher came out of the room all dressed in white with her finger on her lips and said Annabelle Lee had a good night and was sleeping so I went to school and the rest of the family sot down to wait till Annabelle Lee woke up. My grandfather went to the door of the hospital and when I asted him about it he said the doctor had cut a whole in Annabelle Lee's side and took out something I said I bet it would leave a scar and he said it wouldn't be where anyone could see it the way young ladies are dressing these days but he said styles are changing so no one can tell what will happen I said if I had a scar I would want it to show, but he said he hoped I would never have one, and he gave me a nickel Just then all the bunch came racing up, and they had all been away out to the back of the poorhouse to get some violets for Annabelle Lee, and Maggie and Tomnise and Feeble had went in a yard and asted a lady if they could have some of her purple lilacs for a sick little girl and the lady must've given them the whole bush So we took them back to the hospital and then we were late to school and when we told the teacher why she said it was perfectly all right And she talked to us a long time about being kind to other people and when school let out she said she loves us all

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Fate Takes a Hand

"OF course there was no use of Ed's trying to find the fellow in that traffic Mr Hasbrouck went on looking apologetically at me, and I hastened to assure him that his son had done everything necessary

The man surely will not trouble us now I added with a smile so I think we'd better start as soon as possible

Is it your gas, water, oil and tires Mr Train asked efficiently

I saw to 'em all last night Mr Hasbrouck answered for me She's got plenty to last till New York

"That's all right then" Mr Train said How long do you think the folks will be? I'll bring the car around just before they're ready

"Get Ready Quickly"

"I'll let you know" I said as I went upstairs But secretly I decided that we would all be in the lobby ready to start before I gave the word for the car to be brought out With Philip Veritsen somewhere in the offing I had no desire to loiter on a Kingston street The sooner the quaint old town was behind me the better I should be pleased For if I were right in my surmise that he was not trying to see me was indeed evading an encounter I wished to run no possible chance of meeting him on Mary's account

So when I roused Lillian and Mary I asked them to get ready quickly but not to come downstairs until they were all ready to step into the car Then with my own outdoor things on I went down and paid my accounting with Mr Train and Mr Hasbrouck telling them nonchalantly that my friends would not be ready for several minutes yet When they appeared almost on the heels of my words I expressed astonishment at their celerity and Mr Train bustled out for the car

And then we were off speeded by cordial smiles and hand wavings on what I fervently hoped would be an uneventful last lap of the journey Lillian had made no inquiry during our hasty leave-taking—she is always thoughtful not to distract anyone's attention in any time of stress but when we were well away from the city she put the question which I knew was nearest her heart.

Harry's Message

Have you heard from Harry?"

Yes. I gave her his message of love to her and his admonition to me to take care of her She was silent for a minute when I had finished then heard her voice low and husky

Thank you Madge I need that."

I was thankful for Mary's interrupting [illegible] guessed that she had seen [illegible] agitation and purposely [illegible] a lighter note

Auntie Madge, if you don't tell me everything that's happened since we went to sleep I shall die right on the spot. They will have to stop at the nearest undertaker's or the police station. That's the law, isn't it?

I suppose so, Mary," I laughed But we'd try to administer first aid before that calamity happens I'll try to relate every detail But it will be a halting tale I refuse to talk [illegible]

I don't care if the story lasts all the way to New York just so I hear it all she answered and I told them of the private detective's suspicions of Mr Hasbrouck and of the way the [illegible] man and his friend Mr Train with the aid of young Ed Hasbrouck had outwitted the man in [illegible] later

He'll go back to the hotel of course Lillian said Does Harry know about these developments?

Yes he's going to watch for him there

I don't envy the gentleman " Lillian said grimly 'Harry's a mean hombre when he's got a mad on and I gather that he isn't very pleased with this fellow's behavior I suppose you're going to telephone him

Yes Harry said to phone him from Englewood

That ought to give him plenty of time to deal with the sleuth hound " Harry's wife commented and then we heard the unmistakable sound of a blow-out

"Oh I groaned but Mary's voice caroled reassurance

Look Auntie Madge'' she said "If it had to happen where could you find a better place?''

I followed her gesturing hand and saw that we were almost opposite a garage whose door stood invitingly open I drove my car inside at once and heard a smothered, dismayed exclamation from Mary as I did so Then Lillian's voice said softly:

"Don't turn your head. Mary has just dived under the blankets. Don't give her away. Philip Veritsen is standing over there."

Cheap Bread Cheats The Young Husband

There IS a difference in bread

HIS career before him—a wife to support—a home to keep up—babies to feed. He can't succeed with cheap bread lacking needed nourishment.

His mind must be alert—his body active and strong. Ready for each new opportunity. Ready to make good, to get ahead, to prosper.

His food must be the best, particularly the bread, his most important food.

Young wives who know these great truths serve Holsum bread for its rich nourishing goodness... because it helps husbands through each day's work. And because it is so inexpensive to serve.

Holsum takes the place of many more expensive foods that lack needed nourishment.

For refreshing health, for true economy, hundreds are changing to Holsum. Thousands have changed to Holsum. Have you?

General Committee To Formulate Drive Plans at Meeting Tonight.

Appointment [illegible] in charge of different phases of the drive approval of [illegible] and formulation of general campaign plans are [illegible] task facing the general committee of the Marion Community Fund tonight.

In a gathering at the Marion club called by [illegible] President Frank B Glosser the general committee will review and [illegible] tentatively outlined last night by the executive committee.

A Community Fund president who will also be chairman of the campaign here tentatively set for May 19-24 will probably be named tonight.

While no dates for the downtown solicitation have been set it is probable that a recommendation will be made to start that phase of the drive on the Thursday preceding the campaign giving downtown workers Thursday and Friday of that week to work. Omitting Saturday it is proposed that the downtown drive reopen Monday morning and end Wednesday three days before the conclusion of the entire campaign.

Much interest centers around the appointment of a budget committee which will probably review last year's budgets and largely determine the amount for the 1930 goal.

Gas in Stomach Hurts the Heart

Thousands of Cases of Heart Failure Are Caused by Acute Indigestion

Gas pressure from sour acid upset stomach is not only nauseating and highly uncomfortable but some day it may prove fatal.

When your meals are followed by bloating a feeling of fullness or possibly shortness of breath and pains round the heart you may be sure that the acid condition of your stomach is producing a GAS that is pushing upwards and crowding your heart. That's the reason for the shortness of breath and sharp shooting pains.

Whether young or old the presence of stomach gas is truly serious and should always be given prompt and careful attention.

To quickly drive out gas cleanse and sweeten the stomach neutralize the acidity—nothing is better than the daily or as needed use of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia. It gives almost instant relief.

All reliable druggists can supply Bisurated Magnesia in either powder or tablet form. [illegible]

AMERICAN PARLEY GROUP RETURNING

Leviathan Sails With U. S. Naval Conference Delegation Aboard.

By The Associated Press

SOUTHAMPTON England April 23 — The Leviathan sailed from Southampton harbor at 7 a m today taking with it Henry L Stimson American secretary of state and others of the American delegation to the London naval conference.

Departure of the steamer was delayed more than 19 hours in order that the naval delegates might complete the work of the conference with signing of the treaty. They came aboard at midnight after a rail trip from London but the ship had to await better tide conditions before attempting the difficult harbor channel.

The departing delegation brought with it a certified copy of the London naval treaty of 1930 which they signed yesterday at the final plenary session of the conference at St James palace. The document was placed in the ship's safe for keeping until the liner nears New York probably next Tuesday. The original of the treaty remains with the British government.

Senator Reed Democrat in a radio speech broadcast to America said the Americans were coming home with the firm conviction that their countrymen will approve what has been done in America's name.

WARDEN GREETED BY JEERS OF CONVICTS

Former Friends Turn Against Thomas on His First Visit Since Fire.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, April 23—Jeered and derided by the convicts who a few days ago were his best friends Warden Preston E Thomas today went into the prison yard at Ohio penitentiary for the first time since 318 convicts met death by fire and smoke while locked in their cells.

His head bowed in sorrow at the tragedy the warden eyes red from loss of sleep started across the prison yard to issue some instructions to his guard. His step was heavy and faltering.

As the veteran warden came abreast of the chapel where are housed many of the cellmates of the men who met death he heard cat calls and oaths connected with his name. He was jeered and cursed as he passed—jeered by the men who only a few short days ago would have felt pride in their association with him.

For a moment Thomas' head snapped back and he glared at the convicts. Then slowly his head bowed again and he resumed his troubled walk across the vast yard.

Nearby guards went to the chapel and silenced the convicts.

Morrow County Village Has Population of 386 Had 387 in 1910

CENSUS enumerators in Edison Morrow county discovered the village's population hadn't changed since the 1930 census when they checked on their reports to Frank A Beery district supervisor.

The village has a population of 386 which is exactly the same figure as returned 10 years ago. Oddly enough the population of Edison in 1910 was 387 a difference of only one.

• • •

TOD TOWNSHIP Crawford county showed an increase in population in the past 10 years figures made public by Beery showed today. The 1930 figure is 476 as compared to 417 in 1920.

Lincoln township Morrow county fell from 789 in 1920 to 703 this year Beery's unofficial returns from that district indicated.

Holmes township outside of Bucyrus city in Crawford county has a population this year of 403 and Jackson township exclusive of Crestline village also of Crawford county has a figure of 330. The 1920 figures are unavailable.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels take Baalmann's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear, that anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease. Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and "go to sleep" because Baalmann's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine, in the yellow package, at any good drug store. Price $1.

FATHER, SON HELD IN BANK'S CLOSING

Alliance Men Use Funds To Play Stock Market, Is Charge.

By The Associated Press

ALLIANCE O, April 23—Two officials of the Peoples bank today faced embezzlement charges while an audit was being made of the alleged shortages which may total $87,000.

The officials are W A Thompson cashier and his son, A D Thompson vice president who were arrested last night. They were released under $10,000 bond each.

The Thompsons according to State Superintendent of Banks O C Gray used the bank's funds to play the stock market and covered their shortages with forged notes. Their alleged defalcations occurred over a period of several months.

The bank was closed yesterday morning pending an audit after an all night meeting of directors during which three state bank examiners told of their findings. The exact amount of the funds the Thompsons are said to have taken will not be known until the books are audited officials said but the shortages will be covered by the bank surplus undivided profits and surety bonds of the Thompsons. The bank will be reopened after the audit is finished.

The Peoples bank is the third largest in the city and the first to experience any irregularity since the collapse of a private bank in 188[illegible] city officials said.

ON THE INSIDE

With

Bob Kirkpatrick

ALTHOUGH there were but three teams to withdraw from the city recreational baseball circuit, four organizations have asked to be allowed to enter teams. Necessarily one of them has to be left out. Wesley M. E. Juniors is the unlucky team. Their entry came in a short time after the St. Paul Lutherans so they must wait until some future date to be allowed to enter. That is, unless some other nine suddenly decides to withdraw even though they are now entered. We hope the Wesley team will not be disappointed another year.

* * *

With the action of the Harding Memorial Association towards cooperating with the city park commission in the construction of a new baseball diamond on the memorial grounds, Marion has the opportunity to have a diamond in each section of the city. At present the north end is supplied by the Lincoln Park layout, the east by Garfield Park diamond and the west by the Steam Shovel playgrounds. The addition of one in the south would improve the situation many times more than the cost of construction. Let's hope the city park board will contribute to the construction of a diamond on the memorial grounds.

* * *

APPARENTLY the city boxing commission has undergone a sudden change of attitude toward Chief War Eagle, the fighting Indian. Not so very long ago they suspended him from Marion circles for 30 days as a reward for his right hook knockout of Irish Pat McCarty. Now he is scheduled to return to Marion and do his act with Gentle John Kilonis in a semi-final match Friday night. Perhaps some one will explain why the suspension was lifted. The match looks good any way you take it but we wonder why he has been allowed to come back to the city before his term of banishment is completed.

* * *

MONDAY night in the Steam Shovel gym, the athletic association of the Shovel firm will present their opening attempt to again bring boxing into the fancy of local sportsmen. How well they succeed depends on several things. The two biggest ones are: The class of fights which are presented and the manner in which the public supports them. One thing is certain. No one can sponsor any athletic events of high calibre unless the public is behind them. Neither will the public support fights which are not worth watching. From the looks of the first card to be presented the public will have nothing to worry about insofar as getting their money's worth.

* * *

THE first show is headlined by a fighter who needs no introduction in this column. He is well known in Marion and enjoys a great reputation for hard punching and aggressiveness. He should treat the fans to 10 rounds of lightning action if his opponent can stay the limit with him.

The Toledo mangler has earned his nick name. Let's hope he lives up to it when he crawls through the ropes in Marion's attempt to revive the manly art in local circles.

* * *

BESIDES this headliner there will be 24 rounds of fighting which may rival the main go in color. Sailor Burns, a semi-finalist, has a good record both in this state and West Virginia. He is former champion of your Uncle Sam's sailor boys. Ray Schneider will do the glove pushing with Burns. Schneider has quite a fistic reputation locally but he will have his hands more than full when he swaps punches with the former gob.

White Sox Changing One Run Habit in Baseball

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 23—The White Sox still have the one-run habit but this year it's different.

In 1929 they lost 35 games by a one-run margin, so far during the 1930 campaign under Donie Bush they have won three games and all of them by one run. Two of them were 10 inning affairs.

"Those are the games we want," Manager Bush remarked. "Lose plenty when we have to lose and have the extra punch for that extra big run when it's close."

CARNERA WINS AGAIN

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., April 23—Another easy victim was on the knockout record of Primo Carnera today. Sam Baker, Los Angeles negro, lasted only two minutes of the first round against the giant Italian here last night. Carnera floored Baker six times with crushing right hand punches before the negro was counted out. The weights were Carnera 273½; Baker 218. The knockout was Carnera's sixteenth straight victory on his American tour.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX BEAT CLEVELANDERS 4 TO 3 IN OPENER

Thermometer Near Freezing as Fans and Players Shiver Through Game.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 22—The Chicago White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians in the opening game of Cleveland's at-home season Tuesday by a score of 4 to 3.

The Sox scored the winning run in the eighth inning after Cleveland had tied the count with a three-run rally in the seventh. Cleveland filled the bases after two had been put out in the ninth, but Al Thomas, Sox pitcher, retired Joe Sewell on a hopper to the box for the final out.

The Indians used four pinch hitters during the game, and they all came through with hits.

The thermometer was near freezing and most of the fans were huddled in their seats in winter clothing, including heavy overcoats.

The Indians scored all their runs in a seventh inning batting spree. This came with two men out. Jamieson started it with a double. Then with the bases full, Averill, who has been out of the game with a sprained ankle, limped to the plate to bat for Goldman. He singled and scored Hodapp and Jamieson. Falk's single brought in the run which tied the score.

In the opening game at Chicago last week, Hodapp, Cleveland second baseman, collided with Art Shires, publicized Sox first baseman. Hodapp was knocked out. But today Hodapp flattened Shires in the first inning when he took Moore's bounder and rapped Shires in the ribs so hard as the latter came into second base that the Sox first baseman had to leave the game.

Mayor John Marshall, throwing the first ball as part of ceremony opening Cleveland's season at home, threw a perfect strike over the plate to Jack Dempsey, who acted as his catcher. Dempsey is here to referee a fight Tuesday night.

WILD BILL HALLAHAN BEATS CHICAGO CUBS

Erratic Left Hander Turns in Second Straight Win Over Champions.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE Chicago Cubs may be champions of the National league and a generally dangerous team, but they are just another ball club where Bill Hallahan of St. Louis is concerned. Hallahan, a left handed pitcher who failed to live up to expectations last season, already has beaten the Cubs twice this season and is in a fair way to become a permanent jinx if he can continue his pace.

In two games, the Cubs have scored just four runs off Hallahan's delivery, three of them coming from a homer by Hack Wilson yesterday as the Cardinals scored an 8 to 3 triumph. And they have made only seven hits.

In 1929, Hallahan pitched 94 innings in 20 games and allowed 94 hits while striking out 52 opposing batsmen, but he gained the well-earned nickname of "Wild Bill" by handing out 60 bases on balls. Against the Cubs this year, Bill still is wild but somewhat more successful. Yesterday he gave seven walks and fanned nine. In his previous two-hit triumph he added two to each total.

The Cards and the Cubs supplied just half of yesterday's National league schedule as New York and Boston were rained out while Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

In the other game, the Phillies beat out the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 5 as Chuck Klein and Barney Friberg did the most effective part of Philadelphia's heavy hitting. They each got a homer in the first inning to gain a 3-0 lead and Klein added a double and two singles in four times at bat.

The champion Philadelphia Athletics continued to set the pace for the American league by demonstrating to a New York crowd of [illegible], the largest turnout so far this season, just how to beat the Yankees. A home run in the ninth inning by Bing Miller gave the Athletics a 7 to 6 victory after the teams had started out with a wild slugging spree for three frames that drove Lefty Grove from the mound and nearly did the same to Roy Sherid, young Yankee hurler.

The Chicago White Sox moved into second place in the standing by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 3, for their third victory in four games. The pitching of Al Thomas turned the trick.

Washington continued its smart playing to nose out the surprising Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, in a twelve inning duel between Charley Ruffing of Boston and three Senator moundsmen. Ruffing struck out eight but made a few mistakes and the Senators took advantage of every opportunity to get a run or two.

The St. Louis Browns had to go 12 innings to gain a 5 to 4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had scored twice in the ninth to tie the score. Ted Gullic, rookie outfielder from the Ozark mountains, drove in the winning run with his third hit of the game.

Epworth Juniors Beaten by First Presbyterians

Cold weather and a poor diamond turned the first baseball game of 1930, played last night between the Epworth Juniors and the First Presbyterians, into a veritable comedy of errors. The Methodists were nearly forced to call the city fire department to put out the Presbyterians in the first inning and when they finally did succeed the eventual winners had six runs to their credit. Epworth chopped away at the lead until they tied it up at 9 all in the seventh and then lost the game 10 to 9 when the Presbyterians crossed the home plate once in the extra inning.

Lockwood and Vanderhoff did the pitching for the losers with Kennedy and Sage tossing them over for the Presbyterians.

WILDCATS OPEN SEASON

Central Wildcats, champion of Marion school league in 1929, will open their 1930 baseball season Sunday afternoon when they clash with the Neal Heart Tigers. The Wildcats won 10 of 12 games last season and are expecting to do as well or better this year.

BOARD ALLIES BOOST WHEAT

Exchange of May Contracts For Cash Grain Is Completed

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO April 23—Wheat prices jumped higher early today [illegible] to arm [illegible] allies taking over [illegible] shipping millions of bushels of cash wheat in exchange for May contracts. There was speculative buying also on the ground that the wheat market had been declining for a fortnight and [illegible] rallies were overdue. Opening [illegible] up wheat later reacted somewhat but then rose again. Corn oats and provisions were likewise firm with corn starting [illegible] higher and subsequently holding the gain.

Contributing to upward movement of the wheat market today was the fact that revised estimates put yesterday's North American export business as high as 2 000 000 bushels and [illegible] rupling estimates which were current yesterday. Besides 500 000 bushels of wheat were reported as having been taken overnight for Europe and there was talk of good prospects of further liberal purchases today. Much attention was also given to the Washington weekly crop summary indicating that [illegible] rains [illegible] [illegible] still [illegible] [illegible] reporting over central and southwestern Kansas in particular as well as central and west [illegible] Oklahoma.

It was specially pointed out today by friends of higher prices for wheat that largely because of widespread belief that the southwestern growth [illegible] [illegible] frozen the market had registered an average decline of about 14c a bushel in [illegible] two weeks. All rices today however were to the effect that the wheat surplus belt of Kansas and Oklahoma had a very promising outlook and that [illegible] [illegible] thereafter a bumper crop this season is unlikely.

ORDINANCE NO. 2066.
TO ISSUE NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING MONEY FOR THE CONSTRUCTION, RECONSTRUCTION IMPROVEMENT AND CORRECTION OF THE SANITARY AND STORM WATER SEWER SYSTEM OF THE CITY OF MARION, OHIO

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Marion and State of Ohio, two-thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring

Section 1. That for the purpose of raising money to improve the sewer system of the City of Marion Ohio, by constructing, reconstructing, improving and correcting the sanitary and storm sewers of the said City of Marion, it is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of said city in the principal sum of $14 00.00. Said bonds shall consist of fourteen bonds in the denomination of $1000.00 each, except that one which shall be [illegible] the denomination of $[illegible] shall be numbered consecutively from one to [illegible] inclusive, shall be dated December 1st 1929, shall be [illegible] payable [illegible] March 1st, [illegible] $1000.00 September 1st 1932 and [illegible] March 1st and September 1st [illegible] 1933 [illegible] both inclusive and shall bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum payable semi-annually the first day of March and September until the principal sum is paid, said interest being evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds bearing the facsimile signature of the City Auditor and both principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer in said City of Marion, Ohio. Provided, however that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest [illegible] heretofore specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as [illegible] be provided for in the Resolution [illegible] approving the award thereof.

Section 2. That notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issuance of such bonds in the principal sum of $14[illegible] which notes shall be in such number and denominations as shall be desired by the purchaser thereof, shall be given numbers as may be designated by the City Auditor, shall be dated May 1 1930, shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum [illegible] after [illegible] shall be due on or before the first day of May [illegible] and shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Marion, Ohio.

Section 3. Said notes shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued, that they are issued in pursuance of this Ordinance and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor and sealed with the seal of said City.

Section 4. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of said City of Marion, Ohio, for the payment of the principal and interest of which the full faith and revenues of said city are hereby pledged. Said City also hereby pledges itself to issue the bonds in anticipation of which these notes are issued. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds in any excess [illegible] resulting from the issue of said notes are hereby pledged to the retirement of the notes at maturity. A tax shall be levied annually during the period while said notes run on all taxable property of said City of Marion, Ohio, in an amount not less than that which would have been levied if said bonds had been issued without the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon. In the event that bonds are not issued to provide a fund to pay said notes at maturity, a tax shall be levied on all taxable property of said City sufficient for the purpose.

Section 5. That said notes shall be offered to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity and any notes not taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale in the manner provided by law. The proceeds arising from the sale of said notes except accrued interest shall be used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose; the accrued interest shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund as shall also any premium that may be received from said sale all to be applied in the manner provided by law. Said notes shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest.

Section 6. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

40 Persons Given Work in City-County Cleanup Campaign

RUBBISH, JUNK HAULED AWAY

Dr. N. Sifritt Obtains Cooperation of Villages and Townships in Drive.

More than 40 persons have been given work in Marion alone as the city and county cleanup campaign began its third day this morning, Fred Scheff, chairman of the employment agency announced.

More than 100 persons have applied at the City-State employment agency here for work this week.

Meanwhile the county situation is looking decidedly favorable. County Surveyor Cecil Leach has delegated men and trucks to the task of canvassing the county highways, removing all brush and garbage from the road and right of way.

Dr. N. Sifritt, commander-in-chief of the cleanup, is busy obtaining cooperation of village mayors and councilmen, who are working with township trustees to make the cleanup general throughout the county.

Agency Aids

Anyone in either city or county needing labor to assist in the cleanup are urged to call at the City-State employment office at Center and Prospect sts. or to telephone their needs to 2781 to Mr. Scheff.

Although a majority of Marionites have not yet taken steps to get their annual cleanup under way, an ambitious minority has taken the initiative with pleasing results, a checkup of the local situation by Dr. N. Sifritt, district health commissioner, and C. M. Tobin, sanitary officer, revealed today.

An enormous amount of rubbish will be moved if the city answers the cleanup plan with 100 per cent response. Hundreds of wagonloads of unsightly tin cans, thrown at random in a rear yard or against a shed, mar the beauty of many Marion homes, the officials found.

Find Junked Autos

No less than 100 old junked automobile bodies are lying in the rear of Marion lots, cluttering junk yards. Many have been lying there for years and will be there another year if the cleanup drive is ignored.

Virtually every residence lot in the city has at least a small amount of rubbish which should be collected and carted away, the health officers found.

"Look around your own house, and imagine how much fresher and attractive your lot would be if it were cleaned," Dr. Sifritt advised Marion residents.

Yesterday afternoon found a number of men employed in cleanup work such as collecting of tin cans, junk, packing boxes and ashes which have accumulated for a year [illegible].

Officers are beset with one problem by persons who collect ashes of garbage and rubbish, haul them to some vacant lot and dump them. Especially on lots where weeds are up, or any quantities of rubbish, including cans and bottles, are dumped.

Easy To Change Looks

Ash piles, junked automobiles, rickety sheds, which are practically useless and heaps of cans and bottles are a few of the perpetual eyesores confronting visitors and tourists and which may be changed into attractive spots with but little effort, Dr. Sifritt said.

The drive will continue in both city and county until May 1. During that time non-subscribers to the city garbage collection service may have rubbish and garbage hauled at a nominal charge, through an offer of the service department to further the cleanup.

Men and women to help in the cleanup may be readily employed through the State-City employment agency by calling Fred Scheff, chairman of the employment committee.

Not only in the residential districts were unsatisfactory conditions found. In uptown alleys and in the rear of business houses, open courts were found partially filled with cardboard and wood boxes, which were both unsightly and created a fire hazard.

STATE REPUBLICAN WOMEN PLAN MEET

Members of Marion County Chapter Invited To Attend Ohio Council Session.

Marion county Republican women have been invited to attend a rally to be held Saturday in the Deshler hotel, Columbus, by the Ohio Council of Republican Women.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper and U. S. Senator Roscoe McCulloch, of Canton, are listed among the speakers as well as Thad H. Brown, general counsel for the federal radio commission, who formerly was lieutenant governor of Ohio. Mrs. Louise Dodson, chairman of the women's division of the Republican national committee, also will be present.

The meeting will start at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will conclude with an evening banquet. Mrs. Cooper will preside at a tea in the executive mansion in the afternoon.

ORDINANCE NO. 5074

TO ISSUE NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSTRUCTING A LAUNDRY BUILDING FOR THE MARION CITY HOSPITAL AND FURNISHING THE SAME WITH NECESSARY AND PROPER EQUIPMENT.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Marion and State of Ohio, two-thirds of all the members elected thereto, concurring:

Section 1. That for the purpose of raising money to construct a hospital laundry building at the Marion City Hospital and to furnish same with necessary and proper equipment, it is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of said city in the principal sum of $5,355.00. Said issue shall consist of ten bonds of the denomination of $500.00 each, except the first one which shall be of the denomination of $855.00, shall be numbered consecutively from one to ten, both inclusive; shall be dated December 1, 1930; shall be due and payable, $855.00, March 1st, 1932, $500.00, September 1st, 1932, and $500.00 March 1st and September 1st in each of the years 1933 to 1936, both inclusive; and shall bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum, payable, semi-annually, on the first day of March and September until the principal sum is paid, said interest being evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds bearing the facsimile signature of the City Auditor, and both principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer in said City of Marion, Ohio. Provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided for in the Resolution of Council approving the award thereof.

Section 2. That notes shall be issued in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds in the principal sum of $5,100.00. Such notes shall be in such number and in such denominations as shall be desired by the purchaser thereof, shall be given numbers as may be designated by the City Auditor, shall be dated May 1, 1930; shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable September 1, 1930, and semi-annually thereafter, shall be due on or before the first day of May, 1931; and shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Marion, Ohio.

Section 3. Said notes shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; that they are issued in pursuance of this Ordinance; and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor and sealed with the seal of said City.

Section 4. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of said City of Marion, Ohio, for the payment of the principal and interest of which the full faith and revenue of said City are hereby pledged. Said City also hereby pledges itself to issue the bonds in anticipation of which these notes are issued. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds and any excess funds above the actual cost resulting from the issuance of said notes are hereby pledged for the retirement of the notes at maturity. A tax shall be levied annually during the period while said notes run on all taxable property of said City of Marion, Ohio, in an amount not less than that which would have been levied if said bonds had been issued without the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon. In the event that bonds are not issued to provide a fund to pay said notes at maturity, a tax shall be levied on all taxable property of said City sufficient for the purpose.

Section 5. That said notes shall be offered to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity and any notes not taken by said Trustees shall be sold at private sale in the manner provided by law. The proceeds arising from the sale of said notes, except accrued interest, shall be disbursed on proper vouchers for the use herein specified; the accrued interest shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund, as shall also any premiums that may be received from said sale, all to be applied in the manner provided by law. Said notes shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest.

Section 6. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 7. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law. Published in Marion Star April 23, 30, 1930.

DRIVING SPOILS A FUR COAT

BUT a greater fur destroyer is summer heat, which dries out the natural oils, causing the skins to crack, rip at the seams, shed hair.

We store furs in dry, circulating, ice-cold air, which preserves the oils, prevents damage from moths. Each fur is insured to the full valuation you place upon it. Thorough cleaning and repairs at small extra cost while in storage.
